

Role Description for Trustee of The Art Ministry

About The Art Ministry

The Art Ministry is a small charity providing weekly low cost art and crafts session to around 100 children and adults with a variety of needs from south east Essex.

We provide a safe and supportive environment in which people can explore their creativity and at the same time expand their social interaction, increase their self confidence and boost their self esteem so helping to improve their well-being.

Our charity has been established nearly 30 years, we are well respected in the local community and are financially sound. Our annual income averages £25,000, half of which is paid as salaries to 5 part time session leaders.

Overall Purpose of the Role

The Art Ministry's Board of Trustees share responsibility for the overall governance and strategic direction of our Charity. The Board has the ultimate responsibility for directing the affairs of Charity, ensuring that it we solvent and well run, and delivering the charitable purposes for public benefit.

Main Statutory Duties of a Trustee

A trustee is a legally recognised role, and as such a trustee must perform certain statutory duties. Working in partnership with other trustees, trustees must ensure that The Art Ministry:

- complies with all legal and regulatory requirements, including regulation relating to Employment, Health and Safety, Data Protection and Safeguarding
- pursues only the objects set out in its Declaration of Trust
- has a clear strategic plan and is focussed on its delivery, so that it can continue to achieve its objects
- is adequately funded to ensure its financial stability
- properly protects and manages its assets, including the appropriate investing and spending of funds

Other Duties of a Trustee

In addition to the statutory duties, a trustee will be expected to assist The Board in the following:

- participation in specialist committees of The Art Ministry, according to their skills and experience, such as the Fundraising Committee or Finance Committee
- general management of The Art Ministry
- protecting the good name of The Art Ministry
- interviewing, appointing and monitoring trustees and employees
- counter-signing cheques and authorising the allocation of The Art Ministry's funds
- attending and hosting events to promote The Art Ministry
- performing specialist tasks, according to their skills and experience, such as chairing meetings, assessing risks, assessing classes, reviewing employee performance, and minute taking

Skills/Experience desirable of a Trustee

Willing and able to give their time and effort to The Art Ministry

Capable of considering matters relating to the future direction of The Art Ministry

An understanding and acceptance of the duties of a trustee

Willingness to work within the regulatory framework

Good team player

Able to think independently

The role means becoming a member of the Board and so applicants must not be legally disqualified from being a trustee and will be subject to a DBS check.
